Federal Way, WA (October 5, 2022) – Wild Waves Theme & Water Park is back and ready for Fright Fest opening October 7 with a brand-new haunted attraction, Voodoo Swamp, filled with slimy marsh monsters, witches, and the ravenous undead creeping from the murky depths. This new terrifying attraction takes guests through a damp and dark marshland full of evil fiends lurking just below the surface of the water. Guests who are not careful will encounter the sinister swamp witch who tortures wandering souls, making them into her live voodoo doll.

Fearless guests will also discover medical mishaps, creepy clowns, and a zombie apocalypse in the Chamber of Souls. Take a walk in the woods through Camp Whispering Pines, where camp counselors will be on hand to welcome visitors to the summer camp of nightmares. Thrill seekers can also experience an all-new adventure when they ride their favorite roller coasters and select rides in the dark.

Fright Fest begins October 7 at 6 p.m. and is open every Friday from 6 to 10 p.m., and Saturdays, and Sundays from 2 to 10 p.m. until Sunday, October 30.

Daytime is perfect for guests looking for not-so-scary adventures in Booville, a family-friendly zone located in the children's area. This space in the park is "scare-free" and filled with pint-sized rides and fun including safe trick or treating, arts and crafts, Xakary the Magician, a hay maze, costume & mummy wrap contest, pumpkin painting, games, and more.

Guests can indulge in mouthwatering fall treats including the new Dead Sea Potion, a hot coffee flavored with blue raspberry, whipped cream, chocolate and topped with a gooey toasted marshmallow. Fans of Fright Fest sweets can also gobble up delicious Monster Fudge, Jack-O-Lantern Candied Apples, classic Elephant Ears and Dippin' Dots.

Fright Fest policies include:

- Reservations required – To ensure all ghouls and goblins have plenty of room to explore, the park will be limiting capacity and requiring reservations.
- Chaperones for guests under 18 years old – All guests under 18 years of age must be accompanied by a supervising adult at least 21 years of age.
- Masks, full face painting, or zip-up hoodies that cover the entire face are not permitted on guests over 52 inches tall.
